EAST CENTRAL'S HUMP IS BEING TRANSFERRED

Killing two birds with one stone has nothing on the county road board. The hump which is to be removed from East Central avenue is being used to improve two other roads. Sixty wagon loads of dirt daily are being taken off East Central avenue. Since Wednesday, when the work was started, the dirt has been hauled to the road leading to the Rio Grande industrial school for girls. Later, according to John K. Roosen, chairman of the road board, the dirt is to be taken to the Barajas bridge to widen the east approach. An automobile went off the narrow approach several weeks ago, plunging into the river and throwing the driver into the water.

SPRING STYLES FORECASTED BY FASHION WRITER

Skirts Will Be More Full and Just a Little Longer; Lawn and Organdy Collars and Cuffs Worn With Suits.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.
New York, Jan. 15.—Comfort and convenience—these are the two qualifications attributed to sport clothes since the first woman dared don a skirt short enough to uncover the tip of her foot. Would these same sport clothes be quite so generally favored, think you, if these were the only words with which to commend them? If there were not something particularly youthful and becoming in the chic severity of these same sport togs, their sale would be quite limited I am sure.

The Cape Dress.

Wool Jersey for Suits and Frocks.
One of the most attractive of the new materials for suits and dresses is the latest phase of Jersey cloth. It is being used for the dressier frocks and the semi-tailored, for afternoon wear, indoor skating, tea, dancing, calling and like purposes, as well as for the regulation sport suit. It comes in all the new shades, blue, green, brown, and the various other tones now modish. Often on the more trimmed of these Jersey costumes there is a touch of taffeta or a bit of braid. These suits are fashioned after the belted Russian models, the smart flared coats and skirts, and for the strictly correct sport suit along the Norfolk lines combined with an equally severe skirt.

The New Cape Appears.
Among the new features which, of course, are but a revival of the old, is the cape. This appears upon all types of frocks and suits in the form of the shoulder cape, sleeve cape and cape collar. The full-skirted, simple-bodied frock of taffeta, worn at an afternoon tea, the skating frock, or the concert, shows its cape collar, or series of collars, when it is not featuring a Russian-like shoulder drape, crossing surplice-fashion in front, and held in place in back by a girder, from below which tiny coils of lace emerge. There is some indication too, of the cape returning as a separate item. In fact perleries of quantity quilted taffeta are being shown to wear over light summer frocks and are now being worn in the south. Many of these displays the untailored, rather bunched-looking collar which accentuates the slope of the shoulders thereby living up to one of the chief requirements of the present modes. Many circulars and discoidal capes matching the hat are among the season's attractive fancies.

Marring Width of Skirts.
Pape is reported as practically losing her head over the width of the skirt. She gave out the pleasing dream of—"a trifle more length," just a while ago, and proceeded straightway to offset it by adding to their breadth. Many of the new skirts on Paris models, it is said, are gathered material in about the waist with no regard whatever to the figure beneath. In fact a woman wearing such a skirt or frock has much the appearance of an animated barrel or something equally ungraceful. The medium skirts with just a bit of fullness about the waist, combined with the simple quaint bodices now smart, are dainty and becoming, suggestive of the grace of the fifties beneath, as they are. The new models on semi-bloomers of the days of 1820 and 1830, are full of charm if extreme are not indulged in.

Bastille Collars on Tailored Suits.
Collar and cuff sets of organdy, batiste, linen and other like fabrics, are to be worn for spring with dark tailored suits and dresses. They serve to brighten the costume and add a fresh touch, which is dainty and graceful to the wearer. Colored sets, in Russian embroidery, are particularly pretty. Neckwear in general is simple and plain.

Combination of Sheer and Heavy Fabrics.

The popularity of using a sheer fabric and one somewhat heavier in the same frock or blouse, is a notion that is attractive and economical. Crepe de chine, taffeta, or faille in blouse and frock. Serge and satin or taffeta, broadcloth and satin or taffeta, are favored combinations for the street dress, the touch of silk or satin in the more dressy gown is entirely of taffeta or satin, while the lower section is of serge, broadcloth, or subar-dine. Among the new materials for these simple dresses and suits, even for the more dressy models, one sees wool, poplin and similar lightweight weaves.

UNWRITTEN LAW WINS ACQUITTAL FOR ORTIZ

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Los Lunas, N. M., Jan. 15.—At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon a verdict was directed by Judge M. C. Mechem in the murder trial of State vs. Antonio Ortiz. It developed in the defense that the deceased, Aaron Gonzalez, was shot by the defendant while the deceased was making an attack on the wife of Ortiz. The main witnesses for the defense were Contradid P. Ortiz, the wife of the defendant, and Ortiz himself. The story as told by the wife was that Gonzalez came to the house of the defendant at Mesquite on the night of September 20, last, while her husband was supposed to be off on his sheep range, and there attempted to commit an offense against her person. During the struggle of Mrs. Ortiz, the defendant arrived on the scene and the shooting followed. The testimony of the defendant was substantially the same as that of the wife, and as the state could offer no evidence to contradict the case for the defense, which under the laws of this state constitutes a justifiable homicide, Judge Mechem on motion directed a verdict of not guilty. Motion for the directed verdict was argued for by counsel, Rodas & Rodas, for the defense, and opposed by District Attorney Harry P. Owen.
